I Like to Go to School

My name is Daniel. I am 4 years old. This is my classroom.
My teacher's name is Carlos. We call him Mr. Carlos.
These are my friends. His name is Diego. Her name is Sofia.
My lunch box is on the shelf. This is my new backpack.

We clean up the classroom. We put the books on the shelves.
We put the pencils in the box. We pick up the crayons.
It's time to go home. "Good-bye, friends. See you tomorrow." says Sofia.

We look at the board and listen to Mr. Carlos.
"How many candles do you see?" asks Mr. Carlos.
I raise my hand. I can count. Let's count the candles together: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
I see five candles on the cake.

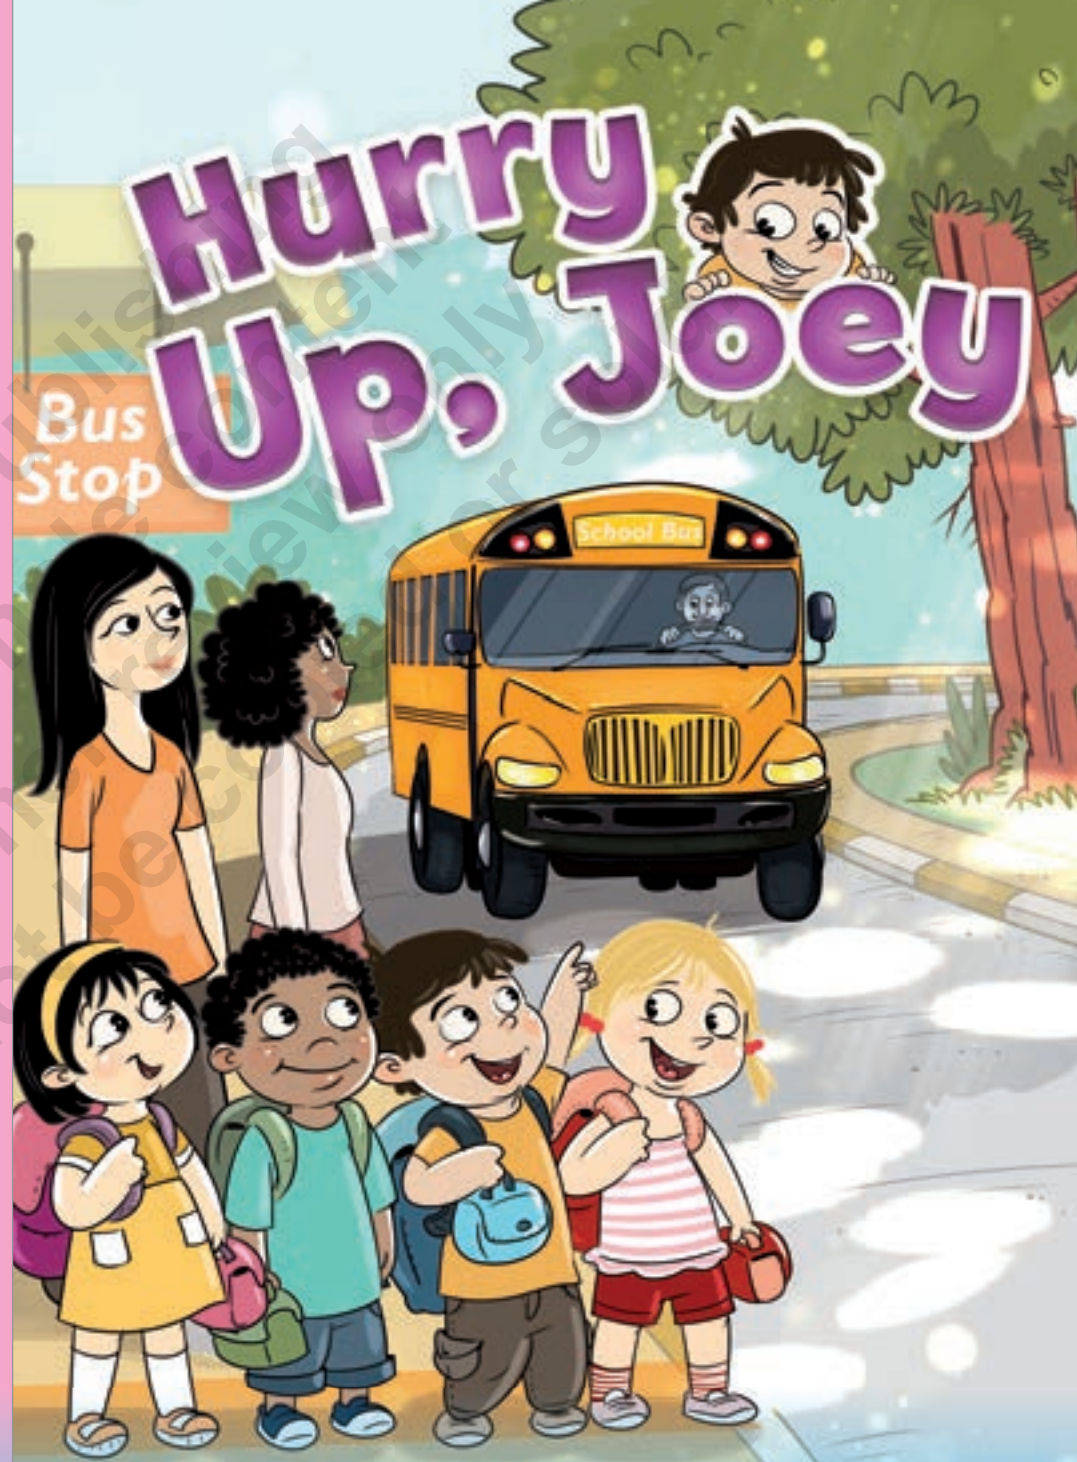

It's circle time. We sit in a circle and look at Mr. Carlos.
Mr. Carlos holds a book and reads to us.
I listen carefully. I don't talk. I like to listen to stories.
I'm a good listener. Are you?

It's work time. We sit at our tables.
I have a new pencil case. I have many colored pencils.
Sofia cuts with her scissors. Diego writes his name with his new pencil. Good work, Diego!

It's lunch time. We eat our lunch together.
I have a new blue lunch box.
I have an apple, a sandwich and some juice.
What's in your lunch box today?
